DECLARATION OF PATRICK MCINNIS IN SUPPORT OF QUICKEN LOANS INC.'S MOTION FOR PARTIAL
SUMMARY JUDGMENT AND PERMANENT INJUNCTION; CASE # S-03-256 GEB JFM

1 I, Patrick McInnis, am President of Quicken Loans Inc. ("Quicken Loans"). I
2 make this Declaration in support of Quicken Loans Inc.'s Motion for Partial Summary
3 Judgment and Permanent Injunction. I have personal knowledge of the facts stated herein
4 and, if called as a witness, I could testify competently thereto.

5 2. As President of Quicken Loans, my duties include managing Quicken Loans'
6 mortgage lending business. I am familiar with the operations of the mortgage banking
7 industry in general, and the mortgage lending activities of Quicken Loans in California and 8 all other states, through either my own personal involvement, or through my management of 9 Quicken Loans' officers and employees. I have also been directly involved in matters
10 relating to attempts by the Commissioner of the California Department of Corporations (the 11 "Commissioner's") to enforce the "per diem" statutes against Quicken Loans, and have 12 reviewed all correspondence relevant to those attempts.

13 3. Quicken Loans is a Michigan corporation that engages in residential mortgage
14 lending in California, the other 49 states of the United States, and the District of Columbia.
15 Quicken Loans makes a variety of loans secured by residential mortgages, including home
16 purchase money, refinancing, and home equity residential mortgage loans. During 2001
17 and 2002, Quicken Loans made approximately $500 Million and $745 Million, respectively,
18 in loans secured by mortgages on California property.

19 4. Borrowers typically contact Quicken Loans over the Internet, or via an 800
20 telephone number that they find on Quicken Loans' Internet website. After Quicken Loans
21 approves a loan, Quicken Loans and the borrower typically complete the lending process
22 through an independent escrow company or through a title company that serves as the 23 escrow company. In these instances, Quicken Loans deposits the funds for the loan into 24 the escrow. The borrower delivers the executed loan documents to the escrow company,
25 including the deed of trust through which Quicken Loans obtains its security interest in the 26 borrower's property. When the conditions required to close the transaction have been 27 satisfied, the escrow company is instructed to disburse the funds to or on behalf of the 28 borrower, and deliver the deed of trust to the County Recorder's office for recording in the

1 public records. Quicken Loans also instructs the escrow company to record the deed of 2 trust in the public records to place the public on notice of Quicken Loans' security interest in
3 the property, thereby preventing the borrower or others from impairing Quicken Loans'
4 security – either through sale of the property or placement of additional mortgages on the
5 property.

6 5. The escrow company frequently is able to record the deed of trust on the 7 same day that it has disbursed the loan funds to the borrower. Often, however, there is a
8 delay of days, weeks or even months. Sometimes, the escrow company fails to deliver the 9 deed of trust to the County Recorder's office on the day that the borrower received the 10 money. Other times, the escrow company timely delivers the deed of trust to the County
11 Recorder's office for recordation, but the County Recorder is slow to record the deed.

12 6. Quicken Loans historically has instructed the escrow company to assess a 13 borrower interest commencing the date the date the escrow company disburses the loan
14 funds directly to the borrower or to a third party on the borrower's behalf, regardless of 15 delays in recording deeds of trust.

16 7. Quicken Loans has no way to predict either whether there will be a delay in 17 recording the deed of trust or, if there is a delay, the length of that delay. Because Quicken
18 Loans has no way to predict the delay, Quicken Loans is unable to compensate for interest
19 charges it would lose under the "per diem" restriction by charging higher rates of interest on 20 loans that correspond to the lost interest.

21 8. "Odd days interest" is interest computed on a per diem basis from the time the 22 loan closes until the beginning of the first full month after closing. "Odd days interest" is 23 generally payable at closing in order to allow lenders to recite, in promissory notes, even 24 monthly installments of principal and interest.

25 9. Quicken Loans is licensed and authorized to make residential mortgage loans
26 in California under the California Residential Mortgage Lending Act.

1 10. In correspondence dated March 11, 2002, the Commissioner detailed the
2 Commissioner's most recent examination of Quicken Loans' operations. In that letter the 3 Commissioner asserted that Quicken Loans had violated and was continuing to violate the
4 "per diem" restriction found in California Civil Code § 2948.5 that was in effect until January
5 1, 2001, and the "per diem" restriction found in California Financial Code § 50204(o).
6 Attached as Exhibit A to this declaration is a true and correct copy of the Commissioner's
7 March 11, 2002 correspondence (redacted to protect the private information of Quicken
8 Loans' customers).

9 11. In correspondence dated January 28, 2003, the Commissioner ordered
10 Quicken Loans to: (1) review all loans it made in California from a period beginning October 11 14, 1999; (2) refund interest payments collected in violation of the "per diem" restriction (and 12 pay the borrowers 10% interest on the refunded interest); and (3) submit a detailed report of 13 all such loans, which report was to include the loan number, borrower's name, loan amount,
14 interest rate, date recorded, interest start date, amount of interest collected/credited on 15 HUD-1, first payment due date, correct amount of interest, amount overcharged, amount
16 refunded and date refunded. In that letter the Commissioner also ordered Quicken Loans to 17 comply with Section 50204(o), and threatened unspecified enforcement action if Quicken
18 Loans refused to comply with the Commissioner's demands. A true and correct copy of the 19 January 28, 2003 correspondence is attached to this declaration as Exhibit B.

20 12. Quicken Loans estimates that to effect the review and complete the report the 21 Commissioner ordered in his January 28, 2003 correspondence, Quicken Loans will need to 22 review approximately 5500 files at a cost to Quicken Loans of approximately $.00,000.

23 13. While Quicken Loans is not certain of the exact amount of refunds it would be
24 required to make pursuant to the Commissioner's demand, Quicken Loans estimates
25 refunds would total hundreds of thousands of dollars at a minimum, and potentially millions
26 of dollars.

1 14. Quicken Loans' sole business is making residential mortgage loans. Quicken
2 Loans originated in excess of $7 billion in loans in 2002, all of which were made payable to
3 Quicken Loans as the creditor.

4 15. Quicken Loans began making residential mortgage loans in 1985, and 5 therefore made no loans before March 31, 1980.

6 16. All of the loans Quicken Loans makes are secured by liens on residential real
7 property.

8 17. Quicken Loans regularly makes residential real estate loans aggregating well
9 in excess of $1 million each year.

10 18. Quicken Loans regularly makes alternative mortgage transactions. In fact,
11 Quicken Loans made in excess of 1,800 alternative mortgage transactions from 1996
12 through the present.

13
14 I declare under penalty of perjury that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on 15 March 10, 2003.

Dear Mr. Gilbert:

This report of examination has been made by an examiner designated by the Commissioner of Corporations for use by the Commissioner in the supervision of the company. This report is the property of the Department of Corporations and is furnished to the company examined for its confidential use. Under no circumstances shall the company, or any of its directors, officers, or employees disclose or make public in any manner this report or any portion thereof to anyone other than law enforcement officials, or other state or federal regulatory agencies.

A regulatory examination of the business conducted under your Residential Mortgage Lender and/or Servicer License was commenced on August 1, 2001 by an examiner of this Department. The examination was conducted pursuant to Section 50302 of the Financial Code (FC).

It appears that there may be other loans with the same problem. You are directed to review all loans originated since the date of the last examination, October 14, 1999, to determine the amount and number of overcharges of per-diem interest collected from the borrowers.

With your reply, please provide a complete report listing the loans reviewed and refunds made. The list should include, but not be limited to, the loan number, borrower's name, loan amount, interest rate, amount of per-diem interest collected, correct amount of per diem interest, amount overcharged and the recording date. Please also indicate what action has been taken to correct the discrepancies found, and provide evidence that any necessary refunds and/or adjustments have been made. Failure to comply with this requirement may result in a special examination for which you will be required to pay the cost and/or referral to the Special Administrator.

Please note that Section 50204(o) (FC), which became effective January 1, 2001, allows a borrower to be charged on the mortgage loan beginning one day prior to recording of the deed of trust. If the recording occurs on Monday or the day following a holiday, as the case may be, it should be disclosed to the borrower when the lender and the borrower establish the recording date. The borrower should acknowledge the additional interest charge by signing this disclosure. It should also be disclosed that it might be possible to avoid the additional per diem interest charge by recording the loans or deed of trust on a day immediately following a business day. Prior to January 1, 2001, interest could not be collected until the date the loan closed, i.e. date recorded.

PER DIEM INTEREST

Dear Mr. Jaffe:

The Department has reviewed your letter of June 11, 2002 regarding the per diem interest charges of Quicken Loans Inc. (Quicken). After considering the information presented the Department disagrees with the arguments contained therein.

As part of the regulatory examination of Quicken the Department required the review of all loans made for the period beginning October 14, 1999 through the date the review is completed. For loans made on and after January 1, 2001 all per diem interest in excess of one day prior to recording of the deed of trust must be refunded to the borrower except for those loans which closed on Monday or a day following a holiday and the borrower affirmatively requested the closing in accordance with the provisions of Section 50204 (o)(FC). For loans made prior to January 1, 2001 all per diem interest in excess of one business day prior to close must be refunded to the borrowers.

A detailed report of all loans reviewed during the period must include the following items: loan number, borrower's name, loan amount, interest rate, date recorded, interest start date, amount of interest collected/credited on HUD-1, first payment due date, correct amount of interest, amount overcharged, amount refunded and date refunded. The amount refunded to the borrower should include 10% interest in accordance with Financial Code Section 50504 (b).

Within 14 days of the date of this letter, please submit Quicken's plan to complete the review and a proposed date for completion of this review and the date for submission of the report of the review. This information should be submitted to the attention of DiAun Burns at the Los Angeles office of the Department of Corporations.
